Hot For Baseball

Fans Gathered in Executive Session at Legion Hall, Wednesday Evening

That Norway wants league baseball was evident at a meeting of the Athletic Association, Wednesday evening at American Legion Hall. Thirty fans and players went into executive session, elected officers and freely expressed themselves on matters pertaining to local matters and Pine Tree League doings.

The following officers were elected: President—Paul Nevers, Vice President—L. O. P. Thayer, Secretary—Robert B. Dow, Treasurer—Ernest C. March, and Manager—Alfred Aldrich.

Stated that the president serve ex-officio on the board of directors. Frank E. Deocoster re-elected secretary and treasurer for the fourth term, resigned. As his reasons were good, the resignation was accepted.

In case "Tim" Gammon, who was not present, but elected to fill the vacancy, could not attend, Robert Brown was elected to fill that office. C. C. March was chosen official representative at all League sessions.

President Nevers opened the meeting for informal remarks, suggestions and discussion. With the Pine Tree League marking time before a general meeting early next month, little could be done this evening except to suggest certain changes in the new code of league procedure about to come.

Bob Dow, secretary and treasurer of the league, described the doings at the annual meeting.

E. C. March, who attended as an interested spectator, commented freely on changes he believed in the comparative score card. He suggested that teams have something to say about hiring umpires and considered a pair of officials on one game too many; besides, their pay for referee might be reduced to good advantage. The speaker favored a 60-40 split on gate receipts to help weak clubs on traveling expenses.

Frank E. Deocoster was not sure this percentage split would work in practice. He pointed out that expenses could easily be made to absorb a lot of money by a by-law was made to designate legitimate expenditures and safeguard good net proceeds from a well attended game.

Returning to local conditions, he presented over-confidence that Main Street would warm over the league as made up at present.

Others who spoke briefly were Elmer Packard, P. H. Nevers and Guy Rowe. It was reported that Lewiston, Auburn, Portland, Madison, Farmington and Duxfield have applied for admission. The sentiment of the meeting favored Auburn for first choice and Lewiston for second.

The question of teams hiring one or more players was aired. A vote taken as an expression of the feeling was against hiring players. There was one exception, that being Oxford. It was pointed out that Oxford is hard to get for local talent and has a struggle to keep in the league. The sentiment of the meeting was to give the local town a show and extend their territory, allowing them to hire players as needed. Even suggesting any other policy for Oxford was considered a display of poor sportsmanship on Norway's part, when the question is put to vote later.

Not much of a definite nature was accomplished at this meeting, but the fans have something to gnaw on until the league session in Lewiston. Whether or not Norway starts the season is a gamble at present.

Daylight Time

Clocks to be Set Ahead One Hour

The towns and cities around us have appointed Sunday, April 26, as the time for setting the clocks ahead one hour. This is done officially during the Saturday night at midnight as the timepiece steps over into the early hours of Sunday morning, thus bringing Sunday in on Daylight time.

Noway of doing the same as these places except that the churches have decided to hold services on the standard time for the coming Sunday, after that time the Daylight time will be in effect.

Norway will open business on Daylight time, Monday morning, April 27. Business continued as usual after the change last year and no upset is anticipated at this time. This change will be in keeping with the policy in most of the Maine cities and large towns.

Public clocks will be kept on standard time as the railway trains will continue on standard.

Kiwanis Bowling

Another Match Needed to Decide Championship

What was planned to be the last bowling match of the season was called off at the Auburn Alleys, Auburn, last Thursday evening, April 16, between two teams of nine men each from among the Kiwanis bowlers. The match was South Paris won by the margin of 59 pins. As there were a number of men from both teams who were unable to show and extend their territory, the match looks as though another match will be necessary to finally decide the championship.

Walker's Annual Field Day

Silver Anniversary, Five Hundred Attend, Dinner, Talks, Movies, Demonstrations

At least 500 people attended the annual field day demonstration, dinner and program of A. W. Walker & Son at their place of business, Wednesday in South Paris. This being the silver anniversary of the event, unusual preparations were made for its proper observance.

A perfect day overhead and dry roads brought out the crowds early. Autos and trucks to number of 150 were parked around the buildings. Practically all the farmers in the neighborhood were present.

The speaker of the day was V. M. Canham, agricultural editor of the Sun-Journal. He needed no formal introduction for his ability to amuse, entertain and instruct has become a household word. He had no special text for the underlying idea that the farmer must better off than many in other pursuits. They have a job and that's worth a whole lot. He mentioned a significant fact that "the Walker concern has taken more orders for dust and machinery this year than ever before."

Mr. Canham reasoned thus, "It is a sign that our farmer has confidence in the future and believes the future is over."

Seven reels of movies were shown at 3 o'clock for the agricultural students and students of village schools. The show was at Strand Theatre, where the farming subjects could be presented to the best advantage. A feature picture was "The Romance of the Reaper", dealing with a century's progress in agricultural implements. This was quite appropriate for 1931 is the one hundredth anniversary of the beginning of advanced farming through the inventive genius of McCormick.

The theatre was open to the public in the evening and this feature with other subjects were enjoyed by crowded houses at two shows.

A neat souvenir passed out by Mr. Skinner was a bronze medal about the size of a silver dollar. On one side is a picture of Cyrus Hall McCormick, father of the modern reaper. Reverse is a reproduction of the original machine invented in 1831. The pocket piece was issued to the farmers and mechanics of the International Harvester Co.

George Skinner, superintendent of the A. W. Walker & Son, was master of ceremonies and in charge of the program. After a short address of welcome

Heywood Club

Patriot's Day Observance

April 20th, officially, was observed as Patriot's Day and was celebrated at the Heywood Club Hall with all day open house. A ball game by the Village team was held in the afternoon with refreshments for dinner at noon. Mellicie played Marching Through Georgia to escort them to the attractive and appetizing lunch served by the club.

One hundred and thirty parties of the repeat served by the 4-H Club girls, Lona Noble, Pearl Noble, Elsie Noydson and Mrs. Lillian Richardson, with their leader, Mrs. Lillian Richardson. They are striving for 100 per cent certificates in Housekeeping and Cooking project. This is their second year in the club. If daintiness of table setting, wholesomeness and attractiveness of the salads and fruit Jello or banana custard desserts topped generously with whipped cream, as well as efficiency in serving come, then it was indeed a 100 per cent dinner and much credit is their due. Spring pussy willows and flags were the decorations.

Mellie and Gram, Fannie Dinsmore, Charter Club Members, and Mrs. Emma Harding, old-time resident and neighbor, were guests of honor.

After the dinner, while the rival teams finished their innings, a series of stunts for the youngsters were Kiss Hunt, Deed the Ring on the Rope Circle, London Bridge, Hot Potato, Puss in Corner, Blowing Bubble, and Floating Feather. Mellicie played his Club Schottische and singing waltzes. Eva Jackson read original poem on "Forgotten Patriots of '75." An hour of patriotic and old time songs ended with Red, White and Blue, All Lang Syne, and closed with a grand old time song, the nation Juddus played several number on the violin. Stunts and guessing games for adults followed. Testing the spices by sight and taste for ladies, naming vegetable seeds for men. Newspaper relay race between men and women was won by men.

NOT ENOUGH MONEY

Chairman Albert J. Stearns of the Maine Public Utilities Commission, in an address at Portland this week, explained the reason that the commission, despite its desire to do so, cannot aid the public by investigating by impartial inquiries, the justice of complaints made against rates and operations of public utilities. The reason is an extremely vital one—the lack of sufficient funds to permit the state to permit the engagement and operation of trained investigators.

The state legislature made an appropriation for the commission for each of the next two years of $133,050, but there is provision in the appropriation measure that $56,000 must be expended for salaries and clerk hire; $40,000 for hydrographic and geological surveys; $1,250 for aid navigation and $15,000 for grade crossings. The small sum of $7,500 annually is granted for the salary and expense of a consulting engineer and for fact-finding purposes, which demonstrates the impossibility of any considerable investigation of the physical structures and fairness of rates of public utilities.

Many small groups of citizens, who have undertaken to bring about the correction of an alleged grievance in public utility, have a realizing sense of the difficulties encountered. It would be for the public advantage if the public utilities commission were afforded the means to enable it to make a fact-finding inquiry in such cases, but such aid did not appear to be the legislative belief.

Mill Crew Arrived—Farrar Caught First Trout—Varney Returned to Martin Place—Reminders.

Horace Crockett, with his pair of horses, scraped the roads through here as far as the Mill line, Wednesday, the 15th, making a great improvement, for during the week previous to that time they were in bad condition.

Well, well, the Tebbets birch mill crew came to town, Thursday, with Harry Norton leading the procession, at ten a. m., in his large car, closely followed by a truck well loaded with birch mill supplies. Then came the Big Goss, Silas Keniston, and Clarence Watertown in the much improved condition of the roads. And at eleven came Mr. and Mrs. Aswell, the boarding house keepers in their new car, this being their second season here as boarding house keepers, and it seems good to see them back, also of course, the whole crew of mill men, as it lives up the community. Silas sent the truck with Harry Norton as an assistant, back to Locke's for a ton of grain and some lumber. They returned the two-horse team, bringing up the rear.

Miss Evelyn Poland, who conveys the scholars for the Morrill School, made her first trip for the season with her car, Thursday night.

Irvin, Lionel and Jerry Bartlett had Linn Farrar's horses to haul out dressing, Monday of last week; Jerry and Irvin, in exchange, helped Linn Tuesday, and had Linn's horses again Wednesday, to plow with.

Charlie Farrar caught the first trout heard of in this vicinity, Friday of last week, it was a beauty and weighed close to one pound.

Cal Russell lost his horse, recently.

Arthur Childs is saving birch on the yard for Donald Varney, on the Ida Bonney farm, purchased by Donald this last winter.

Jerry Bartlett carried his mother and sisters, Grace and Gertrude, over to his sister's, Mrs. Charles Russell's, for a while, Sunday.

Linn Farrar sold a bull to Harold Gannon, last week.

Alpha Varney, who has been living at Boddington this past winter, returned with his family to the Martin place, so called, Saturday of last week.

The Penley Bros., of West Paris, were up here to the birch mill, Saturday of last week.

Joseph Bosse has about fifty cords of birch that is yarded out to the Green Woods road, that he will soon haul to the Tebbets mill which it is said will total one thousand cords for this last winter's cut, as per Mr. Bosse's contract, to cut and deliver to the mill.

Jerry Bartlett is working at the birch mill. Donald Varney hauled a large load of birch from his farm to the birch mill, Saturday.

Joseph Bosse and family went to Lewiston in their Essex car, Saturday afternoon.

Reminders: The boys going suckering; school conveyance by motor vehicle; sportsmen going up the brooks; our R. P. D. man getting up our way at around eleven o'clock a. m., when only a few weeks hence it was near six p. m. Now he turns the trick with a high powered car, which must seem to him like getting money from home; the birch mill whistle blowing; birds singing, and the sun going high, and getting warm, all of which reminds us old guys that another winter is past.

Mostly About Florida

By Edgar O. Spaulding, Who Summers at Harrison

Miami Beach is a separate city from Miami and is reached over a long causeway across the bay from Miami. It is a city of millionaires and has many private estates and gardens. It is the only city in Florida that is buying its city in Florida before they become due. A beautiful place and well worth a visit.

The beaches where the tourists from Miami swim and play are as good as Daytona, beach is warmer. One day I was there, the weather report on the beach house said: Air 74, water 71.

The bond question in nearly all Florida cities is a very burning issue at this time. They were voted when money was very plenty and with very little, if any, thought of the time when these bonds would have to be paid. Now that things are different and the sucter and his money—that he has left I mean—has left the state, many places are coming to realize that they are trying to repudiate their bonds. Here is where the taxpayers' money was raised to buy. It is possible and probable that a too high price was paid for many of these bonds. These improvements are useless at this time, but I cannot see where this has anything to do about repayment to these people who bought them.

The Supreme Court of Florida has ruled in the case of Sanford, West Palm Beach and Hastings that these bonds must be paid and that a sum large enough to take care of interest and any principal due, must be assessed against the taxpayers in each and every year.

The plight of Sanford, which maybe a little worse than other places, (typical and may well do as an illustration) is Sanford, Fla., is a city with a population in 1930 of about 10,000. Sixty per cent. of all the clergy living in the United States comes
